

TRY SCHOLARSHIP OPPORTUNITIES

Below is a list of various sources for potential scholarship funding that TRY participants have received in previous years. The goal of this resource is to provide prospective TRY participants information about organizations within their geographic region that have offered scholarships in the past. We do our best to provide accurate material and information from each source.

Community Scholarships

Most communities offer teen Israel travel scholarships through their local Jewish Federation or through other Jewish educational agencies. In most cases, these community funds are available only for the teens in the areas that they serve. TRY meets the criteria to qualify for most of these scholarships. We have included a list of specific communities that offer such scholarships at the end of this letter. If you do not find your hometown in the list below, check out the National Federation Directory.

Due to the nature of changes in funding and resources, we do not guarantee accuracy of the information provided nor guarantee eligibility as almost all sources are independently managed and have no connection to TRY.

Local Synagogue Often, synagogues have set aside funds specifically designated for sending local teens to Israel. Call your synagogue's office to learn if they offer this type of scholarship. Departments that often have scholarship available include but are not limited to: General Scholarship Fund, Rabbi Discretionary Fund, Sisterhood, Brotherhood, and Israel Committee & Youth Department.

Local Jewish Organizations Some other local Jewish organizations may have scholarships available. Here are some potential sources in your community that are worth exploring:

*Local Federation and Community Foundations often provide scholarships and/or matching grants to participants for programs in Israel. Please remember to check your local agency to determine if you have put aside money in Passport-to Israel or Skip type programs.

*Occasionally, applicants can receive stipends in advance of their trip to Israel in exchange for a time commitment to work in their local synagogue, Hebrew school, and/or youth program upon the applicant's return from Israel. Please contact your rabbi or your youth director regarding possible employment.

*There are synagogues who offer scholarships to the grandchildren of congregants no matter where the grandchild lives.

*If a child goes to Israel with a Ramah Program (8th grade trip, Confirmation class...), s/he will receive a small stipend towards their participation on TRY. Please send a copy of the "coupon" to the NY office or contact the accountant at 212 280 6137.

*Several local businesses in your area may offer "study abroad" grants. Write a letter to the businesses of family friends explaining the TRY program and request a grant or scholarship.

You can also explore:

- Jewish National Fund (JNF) - Local Holocaust Museum - Jewish Community Center (JCC) - Jewish Council for Youth Services (JCYS) - Jewish Family Services (JFS) - Bureau of Jewish Education (BJE)

Plant Your Way to Israel - Jnf.org/PYW

JNF has developed an innovative program that will help teens save money for a trip to Israel and at the same time raise money for the greening of Israel. To sign up for the program, go to JNF.org/pyw.

Search the Internet! A quick internet search will reveal numerous Jewish organizations that offer money to Jewish teens traveling to Israel. Send them an e-mail and see if you qualify.

Do you know of a scholarship not listed or have updated information? Please let us know and we will post the information for others who are seeking funding.
